General Directions to Customers

The attention of our customers is respectfully called to the following directions, which will, if followed, be an aid to purchasers as well as to ourselves

The object of issuing our bulb catalog at this time of the year is to give our customers an opportunity to order Dutch bulbs while they are in bloom in their own gardens or in the gardens of their friends. There is no other time as practical, as when you can select the colors you want from the actual flowers before you. It is a much better way than to have to depend on the advice of a man in a store in the Fall. In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, these men are not able to give much information due to the fact that they themselves rarely get the chance to study the flowers while in bloom.

By ordering from us before the middle of July, instead of waiting to buy from a local dealer in the Fall, you get a superior quality of bulbs without any extra cost. Your order will be sent at once to Holland and your bulbs will be selected and packed in Holland and will be shipped to us in individual packages. Immediately upon arrival from Holland we will forward bulbs to you in the best possible condition. If you wish to take advantage of our special import prices, we must have your order preferably at once, but not later than July 15th. Bulbs need not be paid for until after delivery, but if you have no account with us, please send references with your order. The long experience of Mr. J. J. Grullemans, who spent more than fifteen years growing bulbs in Holland, enables us to know the best growers and also the best varieties of bulbs, thereby enabling us to give better service than most houses in the country. Anyone not satisfied with the bulbs when received, may return them without hesitation. Please do not wait, but send your order as soon as you receive this list; it will help us greatly to handle our business and insure your getting the bulbs wanted.

No order for less than five bulbs of one variety can be entered, except where prices are quoted by the single bulb.

TIME OF SHIPMENT. We confidently expect to ship the majority of the bulbs offered in this catalog before the middle of October; a few sorts do not mature until late. Unless otherwise instructed, we will send the early bulbs as soon as ready, and the late-maturing sorts when in good condition to ship.

SAFE ARRIVAL OF PACKAGES. We guarantee the safe arrival of all goods sent by express or mail to points within the United States. If a package, sent by express or mail, is injured or lost, we will replace it as soon as informed of the fact. Goods sent in any other way are solely at purchaser's risk. Frequently it happens that orders never reach us or are without signatures. When customers fail to receive their packages in a reasonable time they should inform us and at the same time send a copy of their order.

ERRORS. We exercise the utmost care in filling orders, striving to do MORE than we offer; yet in the press of business, errors sometimes occur, in which event we wish to be promptly notified of the fact, and will make such corrections as will be more than satisfactory. Please keep copies of all your orders for comparison.

TERMS OF PAYMENT. Our terms of payment are invariably cash on delivery, which does not mean that we ship C. O. D., as we will not do so under any circumstances. We deliver the goods and mail bills at the same time, and expect payment within a few days. People unknown to us will please send references with their orders. Those who wish to send cash with their order will be allowed a discount of five per cent from the prices quoted on this list on all orders made up from this catalog, received before July 15th.

OUR GUARANTEE. Knowing and dealing only with the finest Dutch and French firms, we supply only bulbs of the finest quality. (If you want names of people who have used our bulbs we will be glad to furnish them). We pay a high price for our stock abroad and demand the best. We, therefore, can safely guarantee our bulbs to be true to name and color and give perfect satisfaction; we further guarantee to replace, gratis, any bulbs purchased from us, which do not produce perfect flowers under ordinary care.

In order to take care of the requirements of those customers who are not able to order their bulbs before planting time, we carry in stock some of the most popular and best kinds. Watch carefully for the letter. Those kinds are marked by a letter (S) placed before the name of the variety. Selections made from those kinds we will be able to take care of until the end of the season.

Largest Growers of Hardy Plants in America

Bulbs of the Highest Quality

for 1925

IMPORTED TO ORDER ONLY

To succeed with bulbs it is necessary to begin right, by getting sound bulbs of good size, and we would warn intending purchasers against buying cheap, undersized bulbs and expecting the fine results obtained from such as we offer. Our sources of supply are the best in this country and abroad, the leading growers of the world supplying us with their choicest stock.

WHEN TO PLANT. To the beginner we would emphasize the fact that late Autumn is the time to plant all kinds of Spring-flowering bulbs. The larger part of the bulbs offered in this catalog are usually ready to ship the middle of October, and the sooner they are planted after that the greater will be the measure of success, more particularly those for indoor culture; therefore, ORDER EARLY. A few sorts, which are noted in the catalog, do not mature until October and November, and are forwarded as soon as ready.

Darwin Tulips

The Darwin Tulips were developed in the north of France, supposedly from choice varieties of Bybloem Tulips. Owing to the unusual clearness of the colors, to the substance of the petals, and to their vigorous growth, these seedlings, when they came into the hands of the prominent Dutch firms, seemed worthy of forming a new class of Tulips. In 1889 they were named in honor of Darwin, and offered for sale. They remained little known for a number of years but with the renewed interest in the Tulip, which sprang up in England at the beginning of the present decade, they commenced to receive attention. In America the Darwins are now widely appreciated, and their popularity here promises to exceed the favor they have enjoyed so long in Europe.

The colors include the brilliant scarlets and crimsons, and the more somber tones of red. The shades of rose and pink, of violet, and purple are unsurpassed for their delicacy or their richness of color. There are slate blues and blue-violets which might almost be called blue, while Dumas' "Black Tulip" is very nearly realized in some of the dark maroon varieties. There are no yellows. All the bronze and buff tones are Breeders; while bright yellow and orange-scarlet must be sought among the Cottage Tulips. The Darwins may be left undisturbed for two years, but it must be kept in mind that Tulips are not long-lived in our soil and climate, but if taken care of, we have known them to last ten years. The collection offered in this catalog is made up from the best varieties offered for sale in Holland. All have been tested at Wayside Gardens and we stand behind each one of them.

The figure following the name indicates the relative time of flowering.

Breeder Tulips.

Famous Old Dutch or Mammoth Breeder Tulips

The Breeder Tulips have been favorites in Holland for centuries, but it is only within recent years that they have become known and appreciated in America, and now they bid fair to rival the Darwin Tulips in popularity.

Their majestic size and remarkable colors place them distinctly in a class by themselves. Every lover of the more somber shades cannot fail to revel in the rich and artistic blendings of purple and old gold, bronze and terra cotta, brown and violet, and buff and maroon found among the Breeders. They are late to bloom but surpass in size and vigor the Darwins, although lacking the color brilliancy of the latter. The flowers are, many of them, sweet scented, and all splendid for cutting, as they retain for a long time their form and color.

Cottage or May-Flowering Tulips

The Cottage Tulips come into bloom in early May, after the Early Single Varieties have passed. They are hardy and robust, with long, slender, but very stiff stems. The flowers are mostly long and oval, many of them with the petals gracefully reflexed. The Cottage Tulips as a class are rich in the more delicate and artistic shades of yellow, orange, and fawn with salmon, old rose and amber. They are the best of all Tulips for cutting and they develop best when planted outdoors, including the earlier kinds of Tulips.

The U. S. Government has decreed that Narcissi, (Daffodils) Scillas, Fritillarias, Snowdrops, Grape Hyacinths, Eranthis (Winter Aconite), Chionodoxas and Ixias shall no longer be imported from Holland after December 31, 1925. Therefore this is the last season that you are able to obtain these bulbs at a reasonable price. (The pages on which these bulbs are listed are margined with a heavy black border). Attempts are being made to grow these bulbs in this country. None, however, have proved very successful so far, and costs have brought prices to almost three times those charged for the finest stock in Holland.

We therefore like to urge you to order this fine material now for delivery and planting in October to flower the following Spring and for many years thereafter in even greater profusion. There is no cost of cultivation or care—plant them, leave them undisturbed, they are all hardy (except Ixias) and will succeed everywhere. Do not wait until later but let us have your order now so that the finest quality our grower is reserving for us in Holland will not be sold out when your order is mailed over. Order now; pay later, when you receive the bulbs and approve of them, but please do not delay. This is truly your last chance to get a fine lot of Narcissi, Scillas, Blue Bells, etc. at a reasonable price.

Giant Trumpet Daffodils - Narcissi

Daffodils may be treated as advised for hyacinths; they are not particular as to soil and will thrive for a number of years in ordinary soil. They are, with few exceptions, suitable for naturalizing, and, while preferring partial shade, will thrive in full sun exposure. They are very desirable for pot culture, three to five bulbs in a 5- or 6-inch pot producing an attractive group. By planting one or more varieties in succession, a gorgeous display may be enjoyed throughout the first three months of the year.

Paper White Narcissi

(DON'T—Don't Buy Them at the Cheap Stores!)

The demands of Paper-White Narcissi are most meager—any old bowl, a few odd pebbles or crushed rock to support the bulbs as if it were genial soil; water to cover the bulbs half way, with light and warmth to hasten them forward and the kitchen or living room is soon made into a place of cheer from December until April. Nearly all plants require some special, earnest care, but these immaculate, delicate flowers ask only the barest opportunity and they thrive as if it were a joy to live. Any lover of pure white blossoms can succeed with these plants, though they have neither garden or soil and but one little window where light can creep in. Every house should have them, especially as this is the last time they can be had.

You can grow these bulbs in soil or in fibre, in pebbles and water in a bowl, or in water alone, in a hyacinth glass, whichever method is the most convenient for you. It is as nearly impossible as anything can be in this life to fail with Paper-White Narcissi.

Narcissi for Naturalizing

Naturalizing Daffodils, meaning planting them scattered irregularly in quantity, is a rare pleasure. They "bring sunshine into shady places" most delightfully. A lightly wooded bank or open meadow, covered with these golden flowers is a charming sight, as is a grove of white birches carpeted with them. A fairly good rule to follow is, the paler the Daffodil the more it enjoys the shade.

Order Now for Fall Planting

To induce liberal plantings of these lovely flowers, we have made up three special mixtures of many varieties all suitable for successful naturalizing, which will increase from year to year.

The varieties included in these mixtures have been so selected, that you may enjoy a continuous flowering for a month or more every year.

Grape Hyacinths.

Feather and Grape Hyacinths

The Grape Hyacinth is a most interesting flower, perfectly hardy, robust in habit, and admirably suited for the adornment of vases, for which purpose clumps should be planted in the reserve border.

Spanish Iris (Iris Hispanica)

These beautiful bulbous Iris have appropriately been called the "Orchids of the Hardy Flower Garden." For best effects they should be planted in beds or groups of twenty-five or more, the larger the number the finer the effect. They grow from 18 to 24 inches high, and bloom from the end of May on through June.

We have secured a limited quantity of extra strong, home grown bulbs, and offer a fine mixture at 75c per 10; $5.50 per 100.

Lilium Candidum

(Madonna Lily)

Choice Northern Grown. Arrive in August or September

Maeterlinck refers to this loveliest of Lilies when he says:

"The great white Lily, the old lord of the gardens, the only authentic prince among all the commonalty issuing from the kitchen-garden, the ditches, the copses, the pools and the moors, among the strangers come from none knows where, with his invariable six-petaled chalice of silver, whose nobility dates back to that of the gods themselves, the immemorial Lily raises his ancient sceptre, august, inviolate, which creates around it a zone of chastity, silence and light."

Be very careful that you plant the right type of this beautiful Lily in your garden. There is an early-flowering variety which is grown in the south of France. These should not be used in America; if planted in the garden, they are prone to disease and are unsatisfactory. In Europe this type is called L. candidum speciosum. This variety is only too often sold because they cost less.

The true type to use for the garden is the L. candidum from the north of France. This bulb is easily recognized by its white, fleshy scales, by those that know both types.

This Lily of all Lilies should be planted in quantity in every garden—emblem of purity, the inspiration of poet and painter for centuries, and a benediction in the garden when June is melting into July—their delicious fragrance is not equalled by any other Lily.

Plant in loam or sandy soil, surrounding the bulb with sharp sand and placing it somewhat on its side. An open, fully exposed place is best for it. After it has become fully established leave it alone as it much resents disturbance at the roots. If necessary to transplant, do so as soon as the flower-stems die down.

Selected bulbs, 30c each; $2.50 per 10; $20.00 per 100.
Mammoth bulbs, 40c each; $3.50 per 10; $30.00 per 100.

Our bulbs of this splendid white Lily are the finest that come to America and are much larger and better than those usually sent out. We supply the best bulbs only, from northern France.

Lilium Regale or Myriophyllum

It is absolutely hardy, and is excellent for forcing. It has been predicted that this will become the Easter Lily of the future, and being so hardy, may be grown at home. The flowers are white, slightly suffused with pink, with a beautiful shade of canary-yellow at the center, and extending part way up the trumpet. It is delightfully perfumed, reminding one of the Jasmine, and lacking the heavy, oppressive odor of most Lilies. Blooms out-of-doors early in July. (Bulbs ready in October).

Strong bulbs, 60c each; $5.50 per 10; $50.00 per 100.
Selected bulbs, 85c each; $8.00 per 10; $75.00 per 100.

We have the largest stock of this Lily in the country, growing it by the ten thousand.
